

Nadim-Daniel Ghaznavi &lt;nghaznavi@gmail.com&gt;

---

Re: Back in CA...

1 message

---

Hailey Claire <heycmaia@gmail.com>
To: Nadim <nghaznavi@gmail.com>

Fri, Aug 17, 2018 at 1:19 PM

Wow!

Ecuador! That's crazy far. Why the move? I'm coming back to Ontario for a week in a week... will I miss you? How long will you be there for?

Sorry for the delay, Bryce and I just moved to a nicer spot in Dartmouth so things have been really busy with work and the move.

I just sent a request for my transcript, unfortunately it has to be mailed. When I receive it I will scan it and send it to you. I passed all of my classes and ended up with a 3.08 GPA - I got a D in Calculus which really pulled it down. Which isn't fantastic, but I did learn a lot from this year, and have already planned a study schedule for the coming year! I am in school again in September, that is correct. I've decided to take a double major in Environmental Science and Biology with an ArcGIS certificate.

Again, sorry for the delay! Love you,
Hailey

On Fri, Aug 17, 2018 at 1:57 PM, Nadim <nghaznavi@gmail.com> wrote:
Back in Toronto now. Packing our home up next.

Hailey, can you please send me your transcripts from school last year? I assume you will be back in school in September, is that right?

Love you both,

Dad

On Fri, Aug 3, 2018, 9:00 AM Nadim <nghaznavi@gmail.com> wrote:
Heads up girls,

I'll be back in my old digs in downtown Toronto in a week or so. Dawn and I will pack our belongings and put them into storage. Then we're back here, to Canoa, Ecuador.

We've bought a chunk of land a 30 minute walk from town, or the beach, depending which way you go. Right now it's empty land that I'm steadily clearing, foot by foot.

This is my new home and as always; my door is open to you both. Sorry, there's no address, but if you ask about the Canadians people will know where to send you.

Family isn't about a physical location, it's not about blood either, it's about relationships and history. That hasn't changed, this is just one more step.

Love you both to the moon and back,

Dad